OUR FIRM MISSION

Roberts, Carroll, Feldstein & Peirce is a full service law firm founded in 1971. We believe that our continued success and growth are attributable to a philosophy of providing the highest level of service through a cost effective, client-centered approach. We work hard to exceed our clients' expectations and earn their long-term loyalty by offering practical legal solutions with proven business acumen for a reasonable fee.

OUR EXCEPTIONAL CLIENTELE

AT RCF&P, we measure our success by the satisfaction and loyalty of our clients from one generation to the next. Our client base ranges from Fortune 100 corporations to individuals. We represent for-profit companies and nonprofit organizations. We advise decades-old family run businesses whose owners want their sons and daughters to take over one day as well as startups looking for their first round of financing. We assist senior executives with complicated estate plans and young families who just need a will.

OUR CLIENT SERVICE APPROACH

Whether our clients' interests are international, regional, local or personal in scope, we provide tenacious representation in the courtroom and proven conflict resolution skills and focused business counsel outside of it. This unwavering commitment to our clients' needs coupled with a unique level of personal involvement has governed our client service philosophy for over 45 years.

OUR FIRM HISTORY

Roberts, Carroll, Feldstein & Peirce was founded in 1971. It is the successor to the firm established in 1959 by the late Dennis J. Roberts, who was Mayor of the City of Providence for ten years before serving as Governor of the State of Rhode Island from 1951 through 1959.
