The attorneys on Roberts, Carroll, Feldstein & Peirce's Business & Corporate team, represent individuals and businesses – ranging from small start-ups, to generations old family-owned businesses to large companies. Our clients look to us as trusted advisors in major transactions, as well as for timely, well-informed advice on day-to-day operational issues.

For over 45 years, our Business & Corporate attorneys have provided responsive and practical advice to companies of all sizes. Our team takes the time to get know each client's operations and their place in the market. That approach allows us to provide creative and common sense solutions, quickly and conscientiously, at competitive rates.

In addition to counseling for-profit businesses, we also advise several non-profit and charitable corporations and foundations.
