No matter how complex the transaction, we help our clients close their deals on time and on budget. Our Real Estate team assists the firm's clients with all facets of their real estate interests from acquisition and development to property management. We help clients obtain funding, shepherd them through permitting and regulatory compliance, pursue appeals with cities and towns to minimize taxes and resolve disputes with their tenants and landlords.

The firm's clients include buyers and sellers, landlords and tenants and lenders and builders. We represent owners of office buildings, shopping centers, hotels, mill properties and residential developments and high rises. Over the years, our attorneys have been involved in numerous high profile development projects within Rhode Island, including many during Providence's "Renaissance Era."
